Memory '69

. . . commanding respect, even before he speaks . . . and when he does . . . courageous in commitment . . . a creative and stimulating mind . . . dedicated to us . . . a man with a genuine faith in young people . . . the new conduct code . . . if he thinks we can do it, then maybe we can . . . gives so much of himself—inspires the same from his associates . . . an open-door office and home . . . he has the respect of his colleagues and the admiration of his students . . . an overwhelming choice . . . may the book be worthy of the man to whom it is dedicated . . .

Mr. Ted Davis

... the Spirit of Excellence

Miss Memory

Betty Mozley . . . more than meets the eye . . . a charm . . . breaker of records . . . her life's to be lived . . . able to see in perspective . . . Dooley's Doll . . . the exception to the rule . . . never turns down a chocolate donut . . . nobody's fool . . . not afraid of fun . . . Oxford's First Lady.

Mr. Memory

Danny Preston . . . has a word for everyone . . . knows what has to be done . . . sincere, romantic . . . intense desire to succeed . . . concerned about students . . . studious . . . clownish . . . thought-provoking . . . inexhaustible idealist . . . HE wants to be RIGHT . . . "Dan was the Man."

Hall of Fame

Jane Moorman . . . at home in a gym suit . . . untiring . . . road runner . . . never comes up for air . . . always around when there's work to be done . . . Big Red . . . terror in boy's tennis shoes . . . impossible to overlook . . . impatient for good things . . . exhausts what a day has to offer.

Bonnie Shelby . . . she can't say anything she doesn't mean . . . always there before a dance . . . Dooley's best gal . . . concerned about doing something . . . expects a lot . . . fun loving . . . making good things even better . . . relaxed, thoughtful . . . always speaks her mind . . . the girls' representative . . . Booper . . . "What this place needs is a . . ."

Sid Shingler . . . there's something about him . . . doesn't waste time . . . a student first . . . knows what he wants . . . knows how to get things done . . . difficult to know . . . doesn't come around . . . never makes an issue out of something . . . always sincere . . . behind the scenes . . . conscientious . . . has expectations.

Bill Nipper . . . has the courage of his convictions . . . a mind with imagination, with an eye on tradition . . . doer with few complaints . . . refreshing Greensboro corn . . . '56 Chevy . . . once you know him, you like him . . . SJC skipper . . . a fellow decorator . . . quick with a smile . . . without him a lot would be lost . . . his actions speak louder than he.

Fanita Smithwick . . . effervescent . . . scatterbrained . . . in search of the impossible . . . a dynamo of emotion . . . those eyes . . . decrepit rah rah's . . . girl in boy's overalls . . . Angela who? . . . "Are you kidding me?" . . . sense of accomplishment . . . never satisfied if things can be improved . . . a dilbert unto herself . . . a "memory" no one will forget.

Anita Bailey . . . pleasantly extroverted . . . knows when to laugh . . . fun to be around . . . dependable volunteer . . . a different kind of leader . . . easy going . . . smooth and consistent . . . never a disappointment . . . assembly's best screamer . . . refreshing to see.

Joe Siry . . . the zookeeper . . . makes house calls to the infirmary . . . once around the quad . . . a man with a lot to say . . . when he talks people listen . . . many admire him, many follow . . . directed, purposeful, every move carefully planned . . . complex, perceptive, it's hard to tell what he's really thinking . . . controversial . . . he knows what he believes . . . some say brilliant; listen in ten years, you may hear Joe's name.

Daryl Sims . . . easy going sureness . . . a listener . . . comments when he has to . . . Rossville's best farmer . . . band-man . . . knows a good time . . . not an opportunist . . . a pipe and levis . . . never overbearing . . . concerned about understanding others.

Fall Formal

Halloween

... Christmas lights?! ... candied apple kisses
 ... witches and goblins and pumpkins, oh my
 ... how do you like your eggs? ... highest honors in the Car Bash go to ... whoa, Sid! ... what kind of genes cause blue beards? ... if she kissed you once, will she kiss you again? for a quarter! ... wasn't Bonnell going to give away another car? ... the Dolls did it again ... Bonnie good show!

Dooley's Birthday Party

Ghostly notes from a musical casket . . . from an eerie graveyard: Dooley's regards to Avery . . . and to his best guy and gal . . . more coming home than Homecoming . . . movies at a dance? . . . pyramid of PBR's . . . DOOLEY gets an award? . . . the original Bonnell stud . . . no room for a chorus line, nobody seemed to miss it . . . clean up crew with an artistic eye . . . Indeed, the best birthday party ever!

... and the best fun of all ...

... the kind we make for ourselves

You are reading the '69 Memory.

...the Spirit of the Individual

. . . well, let's see who's here this morning, "gentlemen"— gentlemen?! . . . now we'll find out how many really are going to be doctors . . . you gotta love it boys . . . are you sure that's the right hold, Coach B.? . . . what's so magic about a magic number? . . . well, according to Faulkner . . . Broughton: "I am God"— Pate: "God is dead" . . . the boys howled, the girls turned red, and Dr. Landt smiled . . . it's O.K. to get excited about something—but ROCKS?! . . . history, a book and a Penn . . . what doesn't T.D. know? . . . precise, Sharp, a quiet interest . . . Dean Fleming—he makes it look like it's easy . . . the more we teach, the more we learn . . . the only ones who are wise enough to know that studies really do come first . . . office hours anytime.

A greeting, and a good-bye to those who will be leaving after this year. May this yearbook, Memory, recall for you pleasant and challenging experiences. You have become part of us; Oxford is different because you were here. I hope that you will honor your alma mater and that you will always be glad for having been at Oxford.

... the Spirit of Oxford

Dooley's Diary

... mysterious, obscure ... one thing that sets Oxford apart from all other schools ... 133 years of respectable snooping ... and he does know ALL ... revealing all, he presents his annual diary ...

Saturday, Sept. 21—Miss Kritsas, what about those sunrises on the beach?!

Sunday, Sept. 22—My head doll, Miss Mozley, gives a pre-season preview in the lobby after hours. Welcome to the Doll's House, indeed!!!—Parents in dismay with the treatment of their little rats ... Rat Committee "protection"?!

Monday, Sept. 23—Rats are surveyed by sophomores ... the men don't seem to mind that 3 to 1 ratio, and the whole idea doesn't scare too many because rats are as dumb as ever!—First display of freshman lack of talent in the Oxford Olympics, motor-boat racing and "woof-it".—Mr. Zinkow forecasts things to come as rats learn a new exercise.—Is Miles really a go-go dancer?—Miss Liggin and Ottis M. are in Dudley's room. Mr. Katz, weren't you at all surprised, or even embarrassed at your own raw condition? That's all right, Teresa didn't mind.

Tuesday, Sept. 24—Covington water pistol sales soar overnight. Air raids are banned by the "Gray Fox", and the Rat Committee is duly scorned by sophs for enforcing Ratting Rules—Convocation was all right, but the river party was better ... eh, sophomores? 11:00, and the time-honored assault on the Bay of Pigs is abruptly stopped by wet fly paper artillery.—Miss Gibson is now the happy mother of thirty children?!—Mr. Chrisman, were you really all that surprised to discover a bottle of cold cream that belonged to your roommate?

Wednesday, Sept. 25—Freshman good looks are also a distressing factor to many returning sophs.—Perfect match making at the street dance; sophomore girls find freshman boys quite intriguing, much to the sophomore boys' dismay, or was it the other way around?

Thursday, Sept. 26—Number 1 on Oxford's "Most Wanted List": "I've Been Hurt", right Dixie, Linda G., Dottie, Jill, Claire, and Sue?—Ted T., I heard you lost your ring ... could Jan "What's-her-name" have found it?—Miss Boardman, is compatibility more important than virtue?

Friday, Sept. 27—The Rat Auction, and no one is really happy; Circle K loses money to the river, freshmen overly ratted, sophomores overly broke, etc. Otherwise, Handy Andy came out on pop-top.

Saturday, Sept. 28—Daryl S.: you seemed to have had both your problems and your solution at the Rat Dance. Could they have been a "Georgia" peach and the newly elected Rat Queen?—Add my congratulations to the fine Rat Court.—Does Bonnie prefer Bunnies? The Playboy Club seems to think so ...

Sunday, Sept. 29—Slick girls receive typical Bonnell hospitality.—And Mr. Chestnutt has the pleasure of enjoying his new pink underwear.—Boys, you blew it; don't you know panty raids have to be carried off faster than that. But, fortunately, one distinguished gentleman (or lady?!) made it to 3rd floor west ... eh, "George"?

Monday, Sept. 30—Randy S., you seem to be booked ahead with Angela and Gloria, but you should be more careful. Why don't you have your P.T. rings bronzed for every time you change your mind.—It never ceases to amaze me how such a little Bell can escape such a big Tingle.

Tuesday, Oct. 1—Is blood thicker than water, Bill Z.? Rozanne seems to think so. Incest is best, my friend!!—Debbie F. gets the big rush from Sid. But they're just friends ... —Rick E. throws John C. in the shower. John grabs the fixture, rips it out of the wall, and floods top floor. Quite expensive play, boys.—Famous "last" words, Claire: "What's with you, sid?"

Wednesday, Oct. 2—Mr. Fitz, you say you won't take Boo to the fair for her safety. But maybe it is your own neck you are looking after.—Congratulations, Sherry I., on your Top-10 ranking at Tech!—Mr. Peard shocks Housing and the NAACP by painting his room ... black?!

Thursday, Oct. 3—Debby and Sherry seem to be in the running for "Most Dateable Girl" for Dowman. Country roads are scary, aren't they, Deb?—Sally, do you always put your unmentionables on the sundeck to dry . . . happy birthday!

Friday, Oct. 4—Tay, do you always take your "mother" with you to the river?—Dr. Meyer, sure they can't shoot arrows. Nobody's perfect . . . or are they?

Saturday, Oct. 5—Claire S. and Don T., you shouldn't get your "dates" mixed up that way.—Sleepy roommates, Mary and Kay, miss a weekend by an hour. Everybody else made it?!

Sunday, Oct. 6—Don, Doug & Randy . . . drag racing can hurt the pocketbook but can't get you thrown off the soccer team, huh?—Charlie N. and Scott S., don't you remember . . . you're supposed to leave Oxford on the weekends.

Monday, Oct. 7—Twenty-five cents is a cheap kiss, Kenne . . . but I can see that you would like to prove that you know how.

Tuesday, Oct. 8—Mr. Shingler, why did you give Debbie your ring? I realize that you were interested in seeing Claire's reaction, but where does Patty D. come in?

Wednesday, Oct. 9—Debbie F. it seems as if you are the butt of several jokes. Since when do you have a boyfriend from Tech who is a DTD at Emory? That's OK, Sid understands.—Mike F., get the salt off of your tail and you can fly!

—B.O., R.G., F.S., and B.S. acquaint themselves with the most popular campus magazine . . . "Playboy"!

Thursday, Oct. 10—Miss Jervey, you should excuse Cliff's tremendous thirst. After all, the captain of a losing team has a lot of tension to release.—Mr. Dunn, you should be ashamed! However, your claim, "Everyone's a sucker except me," is completely valid.

Friday, Oct. 11—See: Thursday, Oct. 10. Mr. Abrams, you're no partner in crime; who's running this show?

Saturday, Oct. 12—Mike H. and Nancy A., was that a nice thing to do to Daryl?—Congratulations, Jake, on your turkey bake; it was a success! Sunday, Oct. 13—Don't you men in Bonnell have anything better to do than throw water balloons?—Girl's lobby becomes a haven for six flying, screeching bats . . . eh, "Peggy"?

Monday, Oct. 14—Mr. Jacobs, your startling proposal for inter-dorm visitation rattles the tradition in my bones. Does your own glory dominate you so that you can't think in moderation?

Tuesday, Oct. 15—Miss Tras, true or false Playboy bunny?—Midnight: Fall is in the air, third west is at its best, Lynn B. and Jean M. promenade the Thursday, Oct. 17—Who said Mr. Moore doesn't like "GIRLS", Jeanette?

Friday, Oct. 18—Miss McFall, you shouldn't always broadcast your lonely nights in the dorm.

Saturday, Oct. 19—The river party is raided, but Randy makes it out safely . . . can't you be satisfied with just one?—Dayne, hitching rides isn't lady-like.—And Mr. Sims, it really isn't fair that you should be the only SAC representative to the river.

Sunday, Oct. 20—Boo, is it better to be "chicken" or "sissy nine"?—Girls, you really outdid yourselves on the rotten eggs, presents, and noise . . . but a birthday party just isn't complete without being thrown out on the quad!

Monday, Oct. 21—Miriam T., your Brownie camera doesn't get all, but Dooley knows all. Congratulations, new Circle K. members.—The RAC receives my eternal commendation on its unwavering attendance to funerals. Miss Peck was most appreciative!

Tuesday, Oct. 22—Miss Morman and Miss Shelby, you mean you still haven't discovered my identity?—Oxford men are in their best sun deck clothed in curler caps and rain drops.

Wednesday, Oct. 16—David B., Dooley and the Halls of Stone know all. Yours is the capital "E" for experience. Aw, come on!—Miss Diggs, sweetheart of the RAC, manages to bounce back and clean up after having been dumped on by Ades . . . typically low, like on the floor.—It seems as if the Women's dorm doesn't have the only pigs on campus. Did you have fun in the mud fight, kiddies?

"form", birthday parties galore . . . John D., do you always walk around in your birthday suit, or just when the girls can watch? Wednesday, Oct. 23—2nd west, do you want a panty raid that bad?—Mr. Aldinger, fantasy is an excellent escape . . . but, to believe in Magic Genies?!

Thursday, Oct. 24—Mr. Stephens and Mr. Oxford, do you need it that bad . . . hmmm, seems as if 2nd west and Bonnell have something going!—Mr. Seacat and Mr. Steele, did you “dex-it-out” for that all nighter with those attractive slick girls? Mr. Seacat, I believe you were overly affected . . . seems you had trouble finding your room.

Friday, Oct. 25—Mr. Fitzsimmons, was Joanne really upstairs . . . in a one story house?

Saturday, Oct. 26—You have a lot of spirit, Bobby. Aw, shucks, we know it.

Sunday, Oct. 27—My all-knowing eyes perceive that this has been a weekend of folly for many!!

Monday, Oct. 28—My first verbal contact with the students of Oxford for the year '68-'69 . . . congratulations go to Mr. Peterson on being chosen as my spokesman. Surprises for everyone as I make my presence known.—Miss Boardman reveals another “hidden” talent in assembly. I'm sorry that you aren't able to speak as beautifully as you sing.

Tuesday, Oct. 29—Mules don't climb steps . . . do they, cowboys.

Wednesday, Oct. 30—Patty D., you seem to have collected a few “Stones.”

Thursday, Oct. 31—Miss Johnson, Miss Peck and Miss Shelby, you were certainly bewitching tonight!—I was surprised to see a few of my old “spirit” friends, boys . . .—Congratulations to my Dolls on their success.

Friday, Nov. 1—Miss Lorenz, you should try to hold off, you'll sleep better.—The SAE house originates a new “Bloody Mary” called chocolate milk, or so says Mr. Dunn.—Steve H. has some trouble keeping up with his bottle. It seems Sid hid it by laying it on the back seat . . . but Steve just couldn't find the back seat.

Saturday, Nov. 2—Mr. Watts, is it necessary for Miss Lorenz to carry you around ALL of the time?—Ira, is it protection you're seeking from that constant companion shotgun? . . . I don't think so.—Mr. Ades, do you think so highly of your own body that you reveal it to strange women? However, swimming is a wholesome activity.

Sunday, Nov. 3—Oxford students stagger back from Greek Week wondering how the Greeks ever managed!—First panty raid is a semi-flop; who let the door slam? Much pleasure for 3 boys and 200 excited girls!

Monday, Nov. 4—What is it about Haygood that the prowler likes . . . could it be their “open-door” policy?

Tuesday, Nov. 5—Losing soccer game with Emory. Cheer up, sophomore players, you may have the pleasure of defeating Oxford next year!

Wednesday, Nov. 6—Jim B. and Ralph R., is it really worth a dime to ride the dryers at Allgood's Laundromat? Caution, the heat and gas is on you . . .

Thursday, Nov. 7—It saddens me to see such disheartened looks on the faces of so many students . . . deficiencies should be instrumental in motivation.

Monday, Nov. 11—Freshmen are acquainted with the Cow Palace Party tradition. Mr. Haygood and Mr. Wyatt, don't you realize that waitresses are “taboo” . . . and Mr. Haygood, you're never too good look-contrary to the opinion of some professors . . . all of the lawn displays look good.—I am eagerly awaiting my first visit to the Oxford campus for the year '68-'69.

Friday, Nov. 22—Congratulations, Miss Mozley, you seem to win everyone's heart.—Also, much of the same to the soccer team for a job well-done. One good win at the right time was worth the entire season!—Mr. Eley, did Stevie enjoy the comforts of your room?

Saturday, Nov. 23—The entire weekend is a success for everyone . . . the best Fall Formal ever.—Peggy and Boo, don't you think you were a little over-dressed?—Mr. Echols, ing and sharp to die.—What a night for John Lee, Bobby C., and Tom R. . . . behind bars!

Friday, Nov. 15—Cute costumes, kids . . . it isn't every day that we see a “Roaring Twenties” party. I hope the Phi Delts got a good look at our boys . . . while they were sober.

Saturday, Nov. 16—Tom M., do you always misplace your date? You won't find Peggy in the girl's dorm, she seems to be sitting on the curb in front of Dowman where you left her . . .

Monday, Nov. 18—Mr. Wyatt, you and your slick date must have enjoyed yourselves . . . what passion marks! She must be a cannibal.

Tuesday, Nov. 19—Boys, next time you have a panty raid, send more than three in! Hope you enjoyed the shaving cream . . . good work, 2nd West.

Wednesday, Nov. 20—Everyone seems to be excited about Homecoming; it looks as if you have quite a Freshman class this year.

Thursday, Nov. 21—An all-nighter, but little energies spent on studies,

Mr. Coleman, and Mr. Wyatt, I hope you will return the ham, eggs, cheese, cereal, etc. that you borrowed from the cafeteria!—Anita stands up John Browning for the company of an “old friend.” Miss B., I hope you realize that the price of deceit can't be paid by a single “Bill,” a commander replacing a private . . . it's all a matter of individual worth.

Sunday, Nov. 24—Scott S., don't you know that a little guy can't drink like a big guy, and still be able to move?—Miss Oliver, why didn't you come to the dance last night? Afraid Bill might find out?—Miss Peck, it looks like you've still got that familiar “Buzz” hanging on, or is it the other way around?

Monday, Nov. 25—Mr. Sims, it's not what you say, but when you say it . . . next time you yell, sober up some and see if Mr. Davis is around.

Tuesday, Nov. 26—Grand Exit . . . enjoy your vacations!

Wednesday, Dec. 4—Mr. Echols, spending the week-end with a girl is no excuse for returning to school late.—Cliff W. and Doug M., it seems you couldn't wait to get back to Oxford and get into the swing of things. How much did it cost you this time?

Thursday, Dec. 5—Mr. Shingler and Debbie park all day, eight hours . . . must be a record!!

Friday, Dec. 6—Ken C. and Rick E., honesty prevails . . . glad to see you returned the tree.—Miss Adamson, did you enjoy your first skin flick?

Saturday, Dec. 7—The cafeteria phantom strikes again as Bonnell eats heartily; some people just never grow up.

ger in town . . . Homer Barnes makes his way into Bonnell and brightens the evening by trying to register as a guest in their hotel. Most people wouldn't sleep in John Lee's bed for ten dollars! Steve H., is Homer really kin to you?—It seems as if Miss Tygart has discovered that Bruce is not the only "Fish" in the sea.—Party at the Marriott . . . everyone rode in grand style, by bus. Mr. Nipper is waiting with conduct slips; sorry boys.

Sunday, Dec. 15—Cramming has officially begun . . . good luck to all!—Dan and Miles grind out exams in the Student Center . . . is Miles as good in the dark room as Dan thinks she is?

Monday, Dec. 16—Miriam, even to me that Mr. Aldinger and Miss Fears have something going . . . you can understand my skepticism, Dave.—Jenny R. seemed to have misplaced her car, and Jane M. reported having dreamed that she saw it being pushed away by some local pranksters. It was located back of Haygood . . . this supernatural event is even beyond my comprehension.

Friday, Jan. 10—Amy J., it puzzles me why you didn't make reservations for a place to stay in Knoxville . . . but then, you can always get free room and board at Rusty's apartment.—Miss Mozley, does the prospect of Ron's going home with you so excite him that he forgets Sally's car keys? Anyone could make such a simple mistake.

Saturday, Jan. 11—Miss Naylor, is Evan the new Man in your life?—Mr. Strickland, on the ninth you gave the "boys" a little talk concerning the disadvantages of being carried into the dorm . . . it seems that tonight is not a night for practicing what you preach.

Sunday, Jan. 12—Miss Bailey, chalk one more heart (and ring) up to you!—It's certainly surprising how popular destruction has become . . . flag burning, etc. Most indicative of the maturity of the Oxford student.—Gardner W., aren't you afraid that too much religion is going to posses you?!

Monday, Jan. 13—Mr. Dunn, you look healthy to me. What were you planning on doing with that X-ray machine? And do you think "Uncky" will mind if you try to sell the school?!—Miss Young, does your chewing gum lose its flavor on the bed post overnight?

Tuesday, Jan. 14—Mr. Martin, sorry you had to be on the receiving end. But everyone else enjoyed your birthday party.—Miss Stringer, what do you have against your proctor?

Wednesday, Jan. 15—Mr. Gatlin, what are those alcoholic beverages that Jo doesn't know about? Is education your new role?—Mr. Estabrook and Miss MacManus, do you have a prescription for anyone with the flu bug?

Thursday, Jan. 16—Hypnosis earns its place as a favorite pastime on the Oxford campus. I don't think you really slipped, Mr. Stevens.

Friday, Jan. 17—John Lee, your generosity with Chlorets won't influence a judge's decision, but you and Mr. Sims deserve a free break.—George P., you need your glasses changed or some common sense to know when you've had enough . . . it's just not practical to mistake

Sunday, Dec. 8—Mr. Crandall, I realize you have a need for economy in your marital state, but surely you couldn't have been so desperate for 50 questionnaires as to have been forced to utilize the roguish talents of the great Bechtel mastermind! Oh well, for the sake of tradition . . .

Monday, Dec. 9—Pete and Jim take a sneak preview of their lab practical.—Pete, do you really "get more beautiful each day"?

Wednesday, Dec. 11—Mr. Stiller finds a mysterious note inside his roll at dinner, which isn't to different . . . except the note was dated "Nov. 1, 1932." Could it be true?!

Thursday, Dec. 12—Carsh J., the big egg that you laid at the Stone Supper Show proves that you are really "fowl."

Friday, Dec. 13—Larry H. loves everybody, both Miss Sturdivant and Miss McGee.

Saturday, Dec. 14—There's a stranthough it is Hanukkah . . . don't you know that gambling in the dorm is illegal, even in a box!

Tuesday, Dec. 17—Freshmen have had their first taste of Oxford exam weeks . . . thank goodness for holidays!—Merry Christmas!

Monday, Jan. 6—Traditional "welcome-back" party at the river . . . eh, kids?!—Was Finland cold, Rozanne?

Tuesday, Jan. 7—Carsh, I can't help but notice you're still wearing that blue turtleneck, hmmm . . .—Angela T. and Jann O., do you really think those sexy pictures for the boys back home will help your standing at Oxford?

Wednesday, Jan. 8—Mr. Wyatt, you are officially a tradition at Oxford: eight quarters.—It seems that Dr. Broughton has informed Mr. Wingate that the reputation of the latter was of no aid in Broughton's course since he was a big-mouthed Republican . . . that's the way the Goldwater spills, Dan.

Thursday, Jan. 9—Word has come

Mr. Strickland for Mr. Crenshaw.
Saturday, Jan. 18—Ed A. has become frustrated on a recent trip to Bristol, Tenn. . . . He vows to return and redeem himself—D.S. and J.L.T. are apprehended at the raid on Crops and B in Atlanta . . . it seems as if timing just isn't one of your best virtues.—Kenne, you and Jo seem to be at the "Crest" of your romance.

Sunday, Jan. 19—Mr. Pratt, are you still feeling the effects of your very "first"?—Mr. Sims and Mr. Siry, who was the old friend that you were visiting in the infirmary at 11:30 p.m.?

Monday, Jan. 20—Micah N., don't try to set the pace for lovers.—Miss Oliver and Miss Tras, industriousness is a virtue but what exactly is is greater than yours . . . anyone for Irish coffee?

Saturday, Jan. 25—Carlos D. says that vodka and Seagram's 7 just won't mix . . . at least he said that after asking Mrs. Pannell to go parking with him.—Claude, Mickey, and Dee: I know you enjoyed that exciting evening in an Atlanta motel . . . but surely you could have found better material right here on campus.—Mr. Eley and my old friend, Dave A., did you enjoy the comforts of Mr. Aldinger's office? "But we were only answering the phone!", hmmm . . . —Happy Birthday to me and congratulations to my dolls, Miss Shelby, and Mr. Meadows for a job well-done.—Katrina's Sir Galahad made a gallant gesture in defense of her virtue . . . and I might add that Mr. "Barnyard" expressed Randy really crave your bod?—Mr. Strickland says that the Covington fuzz's appearance behind the soccer field this afternoon was enough to make a sober person run through briars and brambles, even for those MDC presidents who are sober for a change.

Saturday, Feb. 1—Mr. Coleman and several SAE kegs . . . need I say more, Miss Hartley?

Sunday, Feb. 2—Dot, was it really tactful for you to ask Larry H., "Is Ken back yet?"?

Monday, Feb. 3—Mr. Lovern conducts a Letterman's tour of the girl's dorm; seeing is believing, eh boys?—Congratulations to Who's Who . . . oh, for the day when I become a national figure, like Raquel Welch maybe?

Tuesday, Feb. 4—Coach B., you seem to be really getting a splash out of drownproofing with all the top-heavy freshmen girls.—Mr. Vinson, are you really Charles Lindberg in disguise?

Wednesday, Feb. 5—Bus transportation system flops as Oxford students prefer Finland's challenging atmosphere to Emory's library . . . it isn't written in the books!—Spring hasn't sprung but Lynne, Wellyn, Dottie, Len, Carsh and others seem to think so. Are leap frog and sheet tossing really children's games? Pete and Wellyn chicken fight, who's chicken?—Mr. Dunn and Mr. Turner, Trail Blazers '69, provide excitement as Mr. Phillips protects innocent bystanders.

Thursday, Feb. 6—Mr. Wise, I hope your French at home received better participation than is shown in class.

Friday, Feb. 7—Mr. Martin, I wasn't aware of a sight-seeing area behind the girl's dorm.—Miss Sturdivant and Mr. Hodges renew old ties at the river.

Sunday, Feb. 9—Betty M., what lit that fire that burned your blanket? "But we weren't doing anything." Pooh bear becomes Smokey.—Claude C. enables Mike F. and Tay to enjoy a quiet evening together but Tay in typical Lawrence of Arabia style boldly makes his escape through the window.

Monday, Feb. 10—Mary S. and Eliot B. match again today in their turtlenecks.—Congratulations to B Company on winning the basketball tournament.

Tuesday, Feb. 11—Basketball Tournament begins, sorry to see Oxford lose both games but glad to see Circle K alive again.

Wednesday, Feb. 12—Congratulations, KA! Good to see all the old this new business you are starting?

Tuesday, Jan. 21—Mr. Dominquez, is the pressure so much for you that you revert to diapers . . . Thanks for the Black Cows anyway.—Mr. Haygood, will you really be giving Miss Young a break to date her?—road-trip, egg shampoo, and birthday party for Betty M. and Lou M. . . . but it sure looks like Mrs. Pannell put the icing on the cake.

Wednesday, Jan. 22—Mr. Siry, you seem to be quick with written warnings.—Happening happens; Angela E. isn't that ugly!

Friday, Jan. 24—My second visit to the Oxford campus is a memorable one . . . —Mr. Farmand and Mr. Watts, I never thanked you for moving my car. One little screw isn't much in payment for such a gesture.—Mr. Avery, my wrath himself well, in spite of his condition.

Monday, Jan. 27—Ken C., Tom C., and Dan S.: don't you know that you can get germs by using the same "Glass"?

Tuesday, Jan. 28—Mr. Hurst, the undateable, just can't seem to get a date.

Wednesday, Jan. 29—What a shame that joke couldn't be shared with Dr. Tarkenton; "Hot Nuts" is an educational album.—Joe S. and James G., is it a funny feeling to play monkeys and look out your door through bed springs . . . another typical night in the savage zoo.

Thursday, Jan. 30—Mr. Haygood, as usual, you have your women well-trained . . . chauffeured, indeed!—Excellent night for water battles, moving Ken C.'s room out in the hall, and locking Pete W. in the library bathroom, wasn't it, Pete P., Mike F., and John D.?

Friday, Jan. 31—Mr. Seale, does

Oxfordites.—Randy B., is Bill N. really a superhypocrite or were you just superpolluted?—Mrs. Shannon, my long-time doll, you'll never be forgotten. Wish I could have come to your night. I'll miss the life you brought back to my old bones with your color and vitality.

Thursday, Feb. 13—Phone bills are out . . . Miss Tate, you seem to be keeping the phone company in business with your calls alone. You can fly there for $100.

Friday, Feb. 14—FABULOUS FRIDAY!—Mr. Meadows totals his car backing up . . . Miss Clark is sewn up.—Mr. Sharp and Dr. Landt are named odd; their benefactress might be also called a misfit?!

Saturday, Feb. 15—The school seems a little empty, sort of like my tomb, especially with all of the cold weather and snow.—Dickey's tree falls toward the girl's dorm. I hope none of the squirrels were injured.

Sunday, Feb. 16—Just for fun, Mark L. starts a flesh pile on the squad . . . just to break the monotony.—“Brag” Vinson has another story to tell about a fabulous date in Atlanta, don't you Brad?

Monday, Feb. 17 — FABULOUS MONDAY!—No classes today but for every freedom there is a price you have to pay . . . Saturday classes.—Sid, did Mr. Elizer actually think you and Debbie were married? Of course, he didn't know about Steve and Karen either, did he?

Tuesday, Feb. 18—“Lolita” strikes again . . . did you learn anything girls?—Miss Perry, I guess you'll have to leave the boys alone now that you have a KA chain around your neck; congratulations.

Wednesday, Feb. 19—What is this I hear about West Wing's performance for the construction workers?

Thursday, Feb. 20—Moore is happening with Mr. Maples and Miss Green.—Mr. Penn lectures on Cupid.

Friday, Feb. 21—Gloom . . . classes not over for another day—Mr. Petersen is a good guy. Not everyone would get up at 3:00 a.m. to get a guy out of jail he doesn't even know.

Saturday, Feb. 22—Steve H. has his first date with Cindy M., already in love.—Tyler P. plays the name game in the bathroom.—Eddie, Phil, John, Scott, Jim . . . who's next, Gwen? . . . Mr. Avery?—My mother's birthday—Miss Mozley, are you really a Mississippi bullfrog?

Sunday, Feb. 23—I believe the highly contagious Sophomore Slump is rapidly spreading. Cheer up, it can't get any worse.

Monday, Feb. 24—Mr. Davis, I will be indebted to you and your services for a decade. Now, if you can only put your proposals into action . . . a drinking place on campus?!

Tuesday, Feb. 25—Mrs. Wright, do you really believe that walking catfish and the Vicious Triangle are going to take over the world?—Mark L. practices for the Spring Fair in Conyers.

Wednesday, Feb. 26—The FW's were rushed by the E's but escaped from the enemy camp just in time in their Red Raider.—Mr. Bell, next time you want to degrade our president, think back on your own relationship with the “boys”.

Thursday, Feb. 27—The “Lord of the Flies” makes his debut tied to a tree, eh Mike F.?—Mr. Haygood, some people will do anything for money . . . but then, all of this doesn't embarrass you anyway.

Friday, Feb. 28—Security for Bill K. and Anne L.

Saturday, Feb. 29—Mr. Seacat, taking advantage of girls with cars seems to be your specialty . . . Ann W. doesn't appreciate that.—Is THIS Leap Year?!

Saturday, Mar. 1—Who would ask “Mother” to go for it . . . only Michelle.

Sunday, Mar. 2—Jeannette K., does an Atlanta Falcon named Rick really work out with you on Sundays? Is flirtation worth giving up your New York “rock”?

Monday, Mar. 3—I never realized that Oxford had so much talent . . . champion weight-lifting, tumbling skills, modern dance, gymnastics, square dancing, etc.—Mr. Vinson, you certainly fit the part.

Tuesday, Mar. 4—The Lone Ranger rides again, eh Rick E.?—Congratulations, Dowman, Ken C., Miss M., and the Housing Department. Two attempts with tape and toilet paper don't foil “Inspector” Phillips who is a good detective, but the boys win with a picked lock. Makes you wonder, doesn't it?—Robin B. and Patty D. play tug-of-war with underclothes . . . who won?

Wednesday, Mar. 5—Thrill of all thrills, East Wing gets its first real panty raid . . . is Oxford really a girl's school?—Miss Seaman, you seem to have chosen a most inopportune time to take a shower!

Friday, Mar. 6—Miss Sturdivant, when it comes to CONSTRUCTIVE action, the “Birds” are for the birds! Does your “group” so lack the courage of its convictions that you must disguise your righteousness in a cloud of innocence?

Saturday, Mar. 7—John Lee, fifteen must have been a world record as well as your own.—Mr. Maples wakes up at 8:30 a.m. and no roommate, still can't find him at lunch. You shouldn't have been worried, Bill, Mike is too “wise” to let anything happen to him.

Sunday, Mar. 8—Miss Morrison's philosophy on “tongue action” was very conservative; but when used with a “Byrd” it comes in handy.
